APRICOT STEM FAIR 2019

You are cordially invited to participate in the Los Altos History Museum's 2018 Apricot STEM Fair on Sunday, June 30 from 10am – 3pm in the Museum's courtyard.

The Los Altos History Museum, located in one of the few remaining apricot orchards of Silicon Valley, has been acknowledged as a Best Family Museum in the Bay Area. In 2018, we introduced the Apricot STEM Fair and had over 700 visitors! Join us as we offer activities that explore the rich history of local people that transformed the land from an agricultural paradise known as the "Valley of Heart's Delight" into the high technology hub of today's Silicon Valley.

In the spirit of our local pioneers and entrepreneurs, our Apricot STEM Fair will provide both an opportunity for families and educators to come together to explore intriguing and exciting Science, Technology, Engineering, and Math hands-on enrichment activities, as well as celebrate our community's agricultural roots with orchard-themed games and favorite apricot-recipe tastings. It should be a fun day!

We would like to feature your STEM activity at our Fair!

A $150 table fee will include one 8' table and two chairs, as well as acknowledgment at the festival and in our thank you ad in the Los Altos Town Crier.

Leveraging our existing relationships with elementary schools in the area, and inviting high school and junior college clubs to participate, we anticipate a strong local audience. We will also be advertising widely both in print and online forums to ensure preteens and other youngsters attend the event.
